Carried to Track on Couch.

From his home in Louisville, Captain Bryant was curried on a couch to the railroad station, where he was placed in a palace car that carried him to Chicago. Then he was transferred on another couch to the clubboose in Washington Park. Situations were required to keep him up, but when he heard the buyle call that cated the candidates to the post for the berby, the old man brightened.

He raised himself on one arm and watched the horses at the post. Then, when they were "off" he followed the fleet as they raced through the mad. He was the first to say that the tavorite, Ci. Zence H. Mackay's Hene, could not win, and he was the first to note the restrained speed of Wyeth, which limitly took the victory.

After the races Captain Bryant was so exhausted his friends thought he would debefore he reached home. No such fear on tered his stanch heart. To one of his old time friends he said, as he shook his hand for the last time:

A feature of particular significance in connection with the consolidation is the impetus that it will give to the iron industry in Missouri and surrounding States. The retirement of several officials from various plants will result in the upbuilding in territory adjacet to St. Louis-of probably the largest iron trade in the entire Southwest. At he head of his industry is Mr. Goltra, who has large interests in the Missouri Iron Company and the Sligo Furnace Company, two corporations which centrol various small plants in this section.

For the present Mr. Goitra will retain management of the local branch of the Schwab corporation, but it is understood that he desires to be fully relieved of all duties except those of the Executive Board. The associated iron companies have already purchased virtually all the ore fields in Missouri and adjacent States, as well as all available timber land, and the making of pig iron has now become an industry of exceptional importance. While the plants are not located in St. Louis, they are in tributary territory, and their success is this city's gain.

Ohio, but now a member of the district bench, was unveiled in the Metropolitan M. E. Church here to-day.

The unveiling was attended with simple ceremony, in the presence of some of those who had helped the dead President execute the will of the people. Well-known men added their tributes to the solemn meiodies of the choir in making the occasion a memorable one. The American flag that concealed the tablet was thrown aside as the congregation sang, with deep feeling, "Nearer, My God, to Thee." The tablet occupies a position on the north wall of the main auditorium, midway between the two entrances to the church.

President Roosevelt and Secretary Cortelyou were present. Addresses were made by the Reverend Frank Bristol, D. D., the pastor of the church; Senator Fairbanks, Representative Grosvenor and Representative Robert W. Tayler of Ohio, who new represents the district in Congress formerly represented by President McKinley.

The tablet is about 3 feet high by 3 feet wide, and is made in the form of a shield. At the apex of the shield a small cross is carved, while at the bottom is the shield from the great scal of the United States. Beneath the cross are the words "Nearer, My God, to Thee." The main inscription is on the body of the shield. Below the border are the last words of the dead President—"Thy will, not ours, be done."

BROOMCORN CROP IS SHORT. Price of Brooms Is Likely to Be Affected. Paris, Ill., June 29 .- A careful summary of reports of the broomcorn-raising districts of Illinois, Missouri, Oklahoma and of reports of the broomcore-raising districts of Illinois, Missouri, Oklahoma and Kansas shows that the acreage planted in broomcorn is fully 30 per cent short of the acreage of the year 1902.

The high price of Indian corn and the difficulty of getting labor to harvest broomcorn to plant Indian corn this year instead of broomcorn. Many that have planted broomcorn this year have reduced the amount of their acreage.

This shortage became known to a few of the largest broomcorn buyers about a week ago, and they have quietly picked up nearly all of the good corn that was left in farmers hands. Over 750 tons have been shipped out of the district in the last week. This heavy buying has caused an advance of $10 to $30 per ton and further advances are expected.

Life Insurance at Greatly Reduced Cost.

The Provident Savings Life Assurance Society of New York

The St. Louis Republic

Unite in a Progressive Business Movement,

'The Republic has arranged with the Provident Savings Life Assurance Soclety of New York, one of the leading old line life insurance companies, to furnish life insurance at a greatly reduced cost. Under the new plan The Republic enables policy holders to save half the premium on every policy issued, so the cost of carrying the policy is reduced one-half.

For example-A person 20 years old can carry from 50 to $250 insurance by paying from 10 to 50 cents at the end of each month. A similar policy taken out in one of the industrial companies would not only cost much more, but the premiums would have to be paid in advance the first of each week. By The Republic plan you have the insurance for a whole month and then save half

This is intermediate insurance. It embodies the best features of the regular life policies for large amounts. The benefits can go to wife and family, father or mother, brother or sister, son or daughter, as may be desired; or they can go to the estate of the policy holder, to be used as a burial fund, or they can constitute a special legacy to any particular person.

The policy provides for payment of the full amount of insurance from the very beginning of the policy term. In the case of policies for small amounts, issued by other companies, there is only a partial payment in case of death during the first year of the policy. This policy calls for full payment at once, even if death occurs the day after the policy is delivered.

Cash surrender values are allowed under the policy after the first three years. Generally the holders of policies for small amounts can get a cash payment on surrender of a policy only at the end of fifteen or twenty years.

The policy holder has to pay no fee for medical examination, his entire outlay being covered by the monthly premiums; and all the arrangements for effecting policies have been made as simple as it is possible to make them.

As many as five different persons can be insured in each household if the ages are not under ten or over sixty years. The amount of insurance which can be secured on each policy under The Republic Provident plan is graded according to age. At 10 years, $75 to $375; at 20 years, $63 to $315; at 30 years, $50 to $250; at 40 years, $40 to $200; at 50 years, $25 to $125; at 60 years, $16 to $80. Intermediate amounts in the same ratio are given for the ages between 10 and 20, 20 and 30, etc.

The Republic saves half of every premium under its new plan of life insurance, because its methods cut down the cost of getting and carrying policies. This is accomplished by dispensing entirely with an expensive force of insurance solicitors, collectors, managers of offices, etc. The Republic's regular force of subscription canvassers and collectors attend to this work, thereby saving half the cest of administration. This saving is effected for the benefit of the policy holders. It is a large economy produced by the application of modern methods of organization and system. The policy holder gets the whole benefit, so the insurance premium is cut down fifty per cent.

The Provident Savings Life Assurance Society ranks among the strongest and best life insurance companies in America. Its business policy is safe, conservative and wisely progressive. It is because of these facts that it has been selected by The Republic to carry out the new insurance plan. Double protec tion is secured where a newspaper, with a record of successful and continuous publication for nearly a century, is connected with the insurance contract,

The Republic could not afford to offer life insurance unless it knew the company writing the policies to be absolutely sound and unquestionably responsible. It unhesitatingly commends the Provident Savings Life Assurance Society; commends it not only upon the basis of the business statement the company makes public, which is given elsewhere, but upon the basis of the more minute and detailed statement submitted under oath to the Missouri State Superintendent of Insurance, and finally, on the basis of the subjoined certificate given by Hon, C. P. Ellerbe of St. Louis, late Missouri Superintendent of Insurance and a specialist of national reputation in all matters relating to insur-
